

Psalmodikon made by Andrew Hokanson, now in the Swedish Pavilion Museum, Lindborg, Kansas. (Courtesy of Ed Almquist, Lindborg.)

Norwegian salmodikon, with transpositional boards, bow (here without hair), and music in sifferskrift. (Courtesy of Vesterheim Norwegian-American Museum, Decorah, Iowa.)

Earl Porter of Minneapolis with his large Swedish psalmodikon.

Harlis Anderson of North St. Paul, Minnesota, playing the psalmodikon made by his uncle in 1867.

Nola Foslien playing her psalmodikon at the Bicentennial celebration in 1976. (Courtesy of The Alexandria Newspapers, Inc.)

Psalmodikon made in Feb. 1981 from instructions in Grandfather's 1846 psalmbook by Harold D. Laurence of Westminster, Colorado.